

CAMERON DUDDY

CAMERON DUDDY has directed over 20 music videos, including Mark Ronson and Bruno Mars' "Uptown Funk", Bruno Mars' "24K Magic", and Fifth Harmony's "Worth It", and has worked with artists such as Britney Spears, Jennifer Lopez, OneRepublic, and Iggy Azalea.

In addition to directing, Duddy is also a singer / songwriter, and one of the founding members of country music band Midland, for which he plays bass guitar. He directed the music video for their debut single, "Drinkin' Problem", earning him a CMT nomination for "Best Group Video".

HOUND